The decorations were in Southern style and were arranged with consummate taste.

Mr. Hart Patty Flack, a younger sister, was bridesmaid. Mr. Caldwell and the groom entered together and were followed by the young ladies.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Chas. H. Nash, of the Baptist church, in an appropriate and impressive manner.

Following the wedding, ices and other light refreshments were served and at 11 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Tandy took a south bound train for an extensive bridal tour to the South.

The young couple received many handsome and costly bridal presents.

BETTER FEELING

On the Local Tobacco Market This Week.

Weed in Soft Condition But Offerings and Sales Heavier Than Last Week.

The offerings of the weed on the breaks this week amounted to nearly 200 hogheads and receipts were 500 hogheads.

The bulk of the tobacco was in soft condition, but on the better grades there was a little better feeling on the market. There was no change in prices on the low grades of the weed.

Loose tobacco continues to come into the market, the most of it being contract tobacco. Much tobacco is now being shipped into the city over both the L. & N. and I. C. roads and the cash receipts are increasing every day.

Much Tennessee goods is being received here. A great deal of the finest product of Robertson county, Tenn., is ready for the local breaks and some top prices may be looked for in the near future.

Farmers around Elmo, Kennedy, Peachers' Mill, St. Bethlehem and other points throughout that section are delivering the weed every day and rehandling establishments are rushed almost beyond their capacity. Some houses work until after night and the break of day finds the street full of wagons waiting to be unloaded.

It is desired that every business man in the city unite with the club and help to make it a success from the start.

WILL CONTEST.

Children Sue to Break Purported Will.

Claim That at Time Paper Was Signed, Woman Was Not of Sound Mind.

Gran Dickerson and other children of Malinda Dickerson, deceased, have filed suit here to contest the document purported to be the will of their mother, in which one half of her estate was left to her sister, Sarah Chiles, now Sarah Mc Nichols, and the other half to the youngest child of deceased.

The paper further stated that in the event of the death of the child before becoming of age all of the property should go to the sister. Appellants claim that at the time of the execution of the paper purporting to be the will of Malinda Dickerson she was of unsound mind and incapable of making a will. Appellants appeal from the judgment probating the will and ask that the matter involved be inquired into.

(Mrs. George Versus Jacob Riss)

Mrs. A. J. George, of Massachusetts, in her lecture the other day Brooklyn, N. Y., against suffrage, said that women could render much more effective public service without the ballot than with it. Jacob A. Riss, before the recent meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs at Springfield, spoke appreciatively of the large work for women being done for years to secure an appropriation for a State Industrial School for girls, and have given up the attempt in despair, and started to raise the funds by private subscription. Colorado women also tried in vain to get an appropriation for a State Industrial School for girls till they obtained the ballot, and then the very next legislature gave them what they wanted.—Alice Stone Blackwell.

It is worth noting that the women who have done the most distinguished public service without the ballot, such as Jane Adams, Clara Barton, Florence Nightingale, etc., believe that women could do still better service with it.

It is also worth remembering that New York women have been trying for years to secure an appropriation for a State Industrial School for girls, and have given up the attempt in despair, and started to raise the funds by private subscription. Colorado women also tried in vain to get an appropriation for a State Industrial School for girls till they obtained the ballot, and then the very next legislature gave them what they wanted.—Alice Stone Blackwell.

Pigeons of Constantinople.

Pigeons are sacred in Constantinople. No Moslem will kill a pigeon under any circumstances, and in certain parts of the city they are found by the millions. One of the most sacred temples is called the Pigeon Mosque because of the number of birds which live there. They are so numerous that the air is of ten dark with them. Rich people have legacies to pay for their food. At all of the mosque peddlers are found who sell corn for the faithful to offer the birds, and it is regarded as a religious sacrifice. The superstition against killing pigeons is based upon the belief that the Holy Ghost inhabits the body of a pigeon, and none can be put to death without a fear of sacrificing the right one.

The pigeons at the Bayezidliye, or Pigeon Mosque, which was built in 1497 by Sultan Bayezid, are said to be the offspring of a pair bought by him from a poor woman in the market nearby and presented to the priests of the mosque. These pigeons are under the special protection of several priests, who feed them regularly.—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Four D's.

Charles Spurgeon once said that there were three great enemies to man—dirt, debt and the devil. He might have added one more and included dyspepsia. The evil results of this disease can hardly be exaggerated. Its effects are felt in mind and body and are as far reaching as the curse that was laid on the Jackdaw of Rheims, which was cursed in sitting and standing and sleeping and eating and drinking and lying. The good effects of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are most marked in aggravated and chronic cases of dyspepsia. It enables the stomach glands to secrete the necessary quantity of digestive fluids, and that at once removes the gnawing sensation that is common to indigestion. It forces and regulates the stomach and gives the blood-making glands keen assimilative power. It cures 98 per cent of those who use it. Dr. Pierce's Peppets are superior to other medicines when the bowels are obstructed.

WATERLOO MONUMENT.

Site of Napoleon's Downfall to Be Marked by Sculpture of a Gigantic Dying Eagle.

France has at last, after a lapse of 34 years, decided to mark the site of Napoleon's downfall. Waterloo is to have a monument.

A short time ago M. Henri Houssaye, an eminent historian and noted member of the French Academy, together with Count de Montoy and Gustave Larroumet, bought a plot of land at the junction of the high road from Brussels and that from Planchenoit near the famous farm of La Belle Alliance, which was the center of Napoleon's position in the great battle of 1815.

This ground has been offered to the military society "La Sabretache."

WATERLOO MONUMENT.

(Erected to Mark the Site of Napoleon's Downfall.)

which has opened a subscription for the erection of a monument. Already the response has been so generous that M. Jean Leon Gerome, the illustrious French sculptor and artist, has been given carte blanche, the only command issued being that the memorial must be of the finest materials.

He has promised it for the early part of 1902, but the unveiling will not take place until the spring days come and the weather is warm enough to permit of a lengthy and elaborate ceremony.

The monument is a striking piece of work. The principal figure represents a dying eagle with one wing broken and drooping by its side, and the other extended but pierced with bullets; one claw firmly grasps the French flag, while the other the mortally wounded bird defends the colors of which are inscribed the words: "Amsterliet" and "Eglaan."

The eagle is of bronze and stands on a huge bowl of marble over which the flag droops on one side, and on the other will be carved an inscription, the exact text of which has not yet been decided upon, but it will contain the date of the battle of Waterloo, and in a few brief sentences tell the results of the strife and also state that the monument is lovingly dedicated to the greatest general France had and to the noble hero who so bravely and gallantly followed their leader.

The eagle measures two meters in height, and the extending wing three meters. The entire monument, with pedestal and base, is 15 meters high and is very impressive.

HONOR FOR MULDOON.

Created Conductor Bishop of the Archdiocese of Chicago by Order of Pope Leo XIII.

Rev. Peter J. Muldoon, the brilliant young bishop of Chicago, who was consecrated July 25 last and named as auxiliary bishop of Chicago, has received a further signal distinction that seldom comes to one so young, of being made bishop coadjutor of the diocese.

By this new appointment, which has been made by Pope Leo XIII, he has coordinate jurisdiction in the great diocese with the venerable archbishop, Most Rev. P. A. Feehan.

The greater significance of this new honor is that it confers upon him the right of succession to Archbishop Feehan.

In naming him as bishop coadjutor the holy father declared that at the same time the next archbishop of Chicago, Bishop Muldoon was born a little less than 25 years ago in Columbia, Cal., of Irish parents.

His early education was obtained in the public schools of Stockton, Cal., where he was a member of the Holy Trinity school.

Water That Purifies Wood. A stream with peculiar properties cures new timber, kills weeds and vegetables and other soft substances thrown into it becomes petrified. It is customary for visitors to leave portions of it for a few weeks in wire receptacles, and then find them turned to stone.

The man or woman who enters the ranks of labor is known thereafter as a "hand." Hands are classed as factory hands, field hands, farm hands, mill hands, etc., but the fact remains to the employer that they are simply hands to lift, to carry, to haul, to push, to control machinery or to toil generally. These people have hearts, brains and stomachs as others have, but no account is taken of that fact. When sorrow shadows them they are still only hands. When wages are cut, the factory shuts down or is run only part time, although the stomach might be considered in this reduction of the daily ration of food, yet to the employer there is nothing to consider but "hands."

The remarkable thing is that the worker seems in the main to accept this classification and to be satisfied to consider only the skill and quickness of the hands that carry the wage on which life is sustained. As long as the hands keep their strength and cunning he is sure of a job. But the body is to be considered as a whole, each part and organ being connected, and each organ and part having as its vital center, the stomach. When it is said that no man is stronger than his stomach it means that no man's hands, no man's muscle, no man's nerves, no man's heart, liver, lungs or kidneys can be strong if the stomach is not strong. Why? Because the stomach prepares and distributes the nutrition for the body, and when the stomach is "weak" it can only work part of the time, or does imperfect work, and when the stomach works only part of the time it is a sure sign that in a short time the hands will only work part of the time; when the stomach does poor or imperfect work the hands will do poor or imperfect work, and eventually that means a lay off or the loss of a job.

"About ten years ago I began to have trouble with my stomach," writes Mr. Wm. Connolly, of 535 Walnut Street, Lorain, Ohio. "It got so bad that I had to lay off quite often, two and three days in a week, my stomach would swell, and I would belch up gas, and was in awful distress at such times. I have employed and been treated by the best doctors in this city, but got no help whatever. Some said I had cancer of the stomach, others dyspepsia. I have bought and tried everything I saw advertised for dyspepsia and stomach troubles, but it got worse all the time. About twelve months ago I was in such a condition that I had a friend call some fear about my recovery. I called a doctor and he found me in a very bad shape. Hands and limbs were cold and dripping with a cold sweat. He told me that I had a very bad case of chronic indigestion and ordered an injection of hot soap water every two hours. I followed his directions and it seemed to relieve me. I was under his treatment until this spring (1901), but he would not order I happened to get hold of a visit of your 'Pellets' and I thought they helped me. It was then I wrote to you for advice. You told me that by my symptoms you thought I had liver complaint and advised the use of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' in connection. These medicines I have taken as directed, and am very happy to state that I commenced to get better from the start, and have not lost a day this summer on account of my stomach. I feel tip-top, and better than I have for ten years."

Mr. Connolly's letter proves the point that strength to labor depends on the strength of the stomach. It also proves a great deal more; that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, makes the weak stomach strong, and so gives strength for daily work.

There are to-day thousands of men in mill, farm, factory or shop who are able to work week in and week out in the enjoyment of perfect health who were at one time unable to work at all, or painfully managed to put in a little time each week. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured the disease of the stomach and its allied organs, which was the cause of their weakness and debility, enabled the perfect digestion of the food eaten, and so the assimilation of the nutrition, which is the one and only source of physical strength.

"For about two years I suffered from a very obstinate case of dyspepsia," writes R. E. Tressor, Esq., of 13 Eastern Avenue, Toronto, Ontario. "I tried a great number of remedies without success, finally lost faith in them all. I was so far gone that I could not bear any solid food on my stomach for a long time; I felt melancholy and depressed. Could not sleep nor follow my occupation (unsmith). Some four months ago a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After a week's treatment I had derived so much benefit that I continued the medicine. I have taken three bottles and am convinced it has in my case accomplished a permanent cure. I can conscientiously recommend it to the thousands of dyspeptics throughout the land."

Men and women who are weak, run-down and debilitated will find in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery the means of a restoration to health. It cures dyspepsia and other forms of stomach "trouble" which prevent the perfect digestion and assimilation of food. It cures, through the stomach, diseases of heart, liver, lungs, kidneys, etc., which have their cause in the disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. The heart, liver, lungs, kidneys—all the organs of the body, derive their strength from the nutrition extracted from food. When "Golden Medical Discovery" cures the diseases which hinder the perfect nutrition of the body, and heart, liver, lungs, kidneys, etc., are perfectly nourished, they too become strong with the body generally.

Sick people, especially those suffering from chronic diseases, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free, and so obtain, without charge, the opinion of a specialist on their ailments. All correspondence strictly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Sometimes a dealer, tempted by the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines will offer the customer a substitute as being "just as good" as the "Discovery." It is better for him because it pays better, but it is not as good for you, if you want the medicine that has cured others, and which you believe will cure you.

"I Fully Appreciate The Value

Of your 'Medical Adviser' in my library," writes F. T. Houghton, of Horrocks, Mariposa Co., California. "I consider it a hundred times more valuable than any medical work ever published before and obtained at so trifling an expense." Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 large pages, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers.

Salt Rheum

It may become chronic. It may cover the body with large, inflamed, burning, itching, scaling patches and cause intense suffering. It has been known to do so. Do not delay treatment. Thoroughly cleanse the system of the humors on which this ailment depends and prevent their return.

The medicine taken by Mrs. Ida E. Ward Cove Point, Md., was Hood's Sarsaparilla. She writes: "I had a disagreeable skin disease which I concluded was salt rheum. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and in two days felt better. It was not long before I was cured, and I have never had any skin disease since."

President Roosevelt made a flying visit to Charleston this week, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt and two members of his cabinet. While there he presented the much talked of sword to Maj. Micah Jenkins. The people of South Carolina had invited the President to present a sword to Maj. Jenkins and when the President cancelled an invitation to Senator Tillman to dine with him, Lieut. Gov. Tillman withdrew the invitation to the President to present the State sword to Maj. Jenkins. Then Maj. Jenkins got on his ear, and declared he would not accept the State sword. The President's admirers then raised a fund and bought the sword that was presented to the Major this week.

RECORD BREAKER.

Will be This Year's Wheat Crop, Says Correspondent.

Nature has Made Amends and Imperiled Prospects to a Great Extent Restored.

A correspondent writing from Chicago says: American farmers seeded last fall 32,000,000 acres of winter wheat, an area of 4,000,000 square acres in excess of what they reaped in summer.

This great planting far surpassed any other in the history of American farming and will offset the damage done to the wheat crop during the long drought of fall and winter, and careful inquiry in the wheat-producing states gives reason to believe that the crop of this year will be as large as, if not larger, than the crop of last year, despite the losses and damages it has suffered.

The drought of the fall and early winter had even then damaged the prospects very noticeably. As against 86.7 which represented the condition then, December, 1900, showed 91.7, and December, 1899, showed the same figure.

The drought continued through January and February, but was broken in March, and the last four weeks have been ideal weather in the whole West. A painstaking survey of the present wheat situation indicates that nature has made amends in these last four weeks for the earlier drought, and that the imperiled wheat crop is to a great extent restored.

Kansas has lost 1,000,000 of the 5,883,000 acres with which it started the season, and Oklahoma, Texas and Kentucky have also lost. The condition for all of these states is low, Kansas being given only 70, as against 105 last year. The condition of the whole Pacific coast is ideal, and Missouri, Illinois and Nebraska also promise high yields. Missouri's acreage has increased by 800,000 acres.

BRIDE WORTH $20,000.

Widow Answered Ad. and Marriage Was Arranged.

H. T. Elliot a Chicago book-keeper, jumped off a passenger train at the terminal station in Nashville last Tuesday night and in less than ten minutes married Mrs. Kate Hutchinson, of that city, worth $20,000, and a person whom he had never laid eyes on before. The wedding was witnessed by five hundred people. Two months ago Elliot inserted an advertisement in a newspaper, stating that he wished to correspond with a view to matrimony.

Mrs. Hutchinson was looking for something of the kind. Photographs were exchanged and letters followed later.

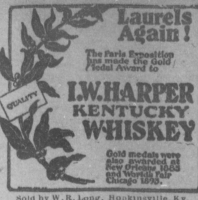

The marriage was arranged. They recognized each other by signs, and Mrs. Hutchinson taking Elliot by the arm, marched into the big general waiting, where a preacher tied the knot. The five children of Mrs. Hutchinson were present. Mrs. Hutchinson's former husband, President of an insurance company, died 4 months ago.

Stubblefield's Rival.

Nathan Stubblefield, the West Kentucky inventor, whose system of wireless telephony is attracting so much attention, has it appears, a dangerous rival in J. H. Lillie, of Southern California, who says he will soon place an instrument on the market that will revolutionize communication. Lillie's alleged discovery of wireless telephony was made by an accident combined with his knowledge of electricity. He was building a system of barbed wire lines for farmers in the northern part of San Joaquin county, California. Two lines were more than four miles apart, and on testing the lines he heard another farmer more than eight miles away talking. This set him to thinking and he soon figured out that he had solved the problem of wireless telephony. Since that time he has perfected a system and an instrument. The question of long distance is being solved by practical test.—Messenger.

Valuable Medicine For Coughs and Colds in Children.

"I have not the slightest hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all who are suffering from coughs or colds," says Chas. M. Cramer, Esq., a well known watch maker, of Colombo, Ceylon. "It has been some two years since the City Dispensary first called my attention to this valuable medicine and I have repeatedly used it and it has always been beneficial. It has cured me quickly of all chest colds. It is especially effective for children and seldom takes more than one bottle to cure them of hoarseness. I have persuaded many to try this valuable medicine, and they are all as well pleased as myself with the results." For sale by all druggists.

Better Than Pills.

The question has been asked, "In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets superior to pills?" Our answer is they are easier and more pleasant to take, more mild and gentle in effect and more reliable as they can always be depended upon. Then they cleanse and invigorate the stomach and leave the bowels in a natural condition, while pills are more harsh in effect and their use is often followed by constipation. For sale by all druggists.

Resident Insurance Law.

Despite the general impression to the contrary, it develops that the recently adopted Kentucky Legislature did pass a resident fire insurance bill after all. This development will come as a surprise even to the insurance agents of the State. The impression that the measure had been killed in its entirety was made by the striking from the bill as originally reported, a section providing a tax on business written fire companies. This was defeated, and the impression some way became prevalent that the force of the entire bill had been killed by reason of this, and so no more attention was paid to it. As a matter of fact, the important part of the measure was not what was stricken out, but what remained, and so Kentucky has today in effect a resident agents' law.

TWO TRIPS A MONTH

Made By Mail Carrier For $35,000 a Year.

Oscar Fish, of Valdez, Alaska, who was recently awarded an annual period of four years the contract for carrying the United States mails from Valdez to Eagle, is the best paid mail carrier in the world, says the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune. For his contract with the government he receives $35,000 a year for making two trips a month between the points named, a distance of about 413 miles, or nearly $1,500 for each trip. The mail carried is limited to 300 pounds and consists generally of letters only, newspapers and the more bulky articles being carried, however, when the mail is unusually light.

Postoffice Department officials say, however, that the sum paid to him is reasonable when it is considered that he makes his trips by dog sled, and that he has the most dangerous route of any mail carrier in the world. His 24 trips a year keep him busy most of the time, and he practically takes his life in hand every time he starts out on his solitary journey. Fish has the finest team of dogs in that far northern country, and some of his trips are made on record time.

He has been given up for dead many times by residents of Valdez and Eagle, but so far he has always managed to reach the end of his journey, although sometimes over due and occasionally much battered up. He has fallen down precipices, been mixed up in avalanches, has been starved, frost bitten, frozen and injured, but is still drawing his $35,000 a year from the government, and says he expects to continue making his adventurous trips until snowed under.

STAGE COACH DAYS IN WEST.

Traveling at Rate of Four and One Half Miles an Hour.

The stage line between Atchison and Placerville, Cal., which ran daily coaches for about five years in 1860-'65, was the finest ever known in the stage coach business, says the Atchison (Kan.) Globe. In equipment no similar line could equal it. It was the greatest stage line on the globe, carrying passengers, mail and express.

In 1864-'65 it cost more for meals between Atchison and Denver than the railroad fare now costs, with meals added. The run from Atchison to Denver is now made in something like 16 hours, as against six days in the stage coach days. At one time fare from Atchison to Denver was $175; the railroad fare at present is $15. The quickest time ever made by stage between Atchison and Denver was four and a half days. Ben Holliday, owner of the line, traveled by special coaches from Placerville, Cal., to Atchison, 2,000 miles, in 12 days and two hours, beating the regular daily schedule five days. This feat cost Holliday $20,000, but it was a great advertisement for his line. The stages, when crowded, carried 15 passengers, besides great quantities of mail and express.

One of the coaches used on the Atchison-Placerville line is now in the Smithsonian Institution at Washington. After leaving Atchison it was operated on the Deadwood line, and was several times captured by Indians and outlaws. Once when captured by outlaws it carried $60,000 in gold. In this attack three guards were killed. "Buffalo Bill" heard that the old coach had been abandoned and went after it, using it for years in his wild west show. In London it carried the prince of Wales, and all the notables of Europe have examined it with interest. On the Fourth of July, 1895, this famous old coach was exhibited with the wild west show at Concord, N. H., where it was made. The owners and employees of the stage coach factory gave the historic old stage a great deal of attention, and in the parade it bore this sign: "1863—Home Again—1895." Another one of the old coaches is owned by J. Sterling Morton, at Nebraska City, and another is owned at Topeka, where it is still in use for tally-ho purposes.

Including Atchison and Placerville, there were 153 stations on the line, the longest in existence (1,913 miles). The fare was $225, or about 12 cents a mile. The stations were from 10 to 14 miles apart. Some days $2,000 was taken in at the stage office in Atchison for fares alone. Each passenger was allowed 25 pounds of baggage; each pound in excess cost one dollar, which was the price for carrying express. The fare to Denver during the war was $175, or 27 cents a mile per passenger. The stages were nearly always crowded and passengers were often compelled to wait several days at Atchison before they could be accommodated. A minister once refused to travel on Sunday and abandoned his place. He did not get a chance to go until the following Sunday, and this time he concluded that under certain circumstances, traveling on Sunday was excusable. Sometimes passengers booked for a certain day sold out for a bonus of from $20 to $50, and waited for a later stage.

REMAINS OF ST. AGNES.

Missing for Nearly Four Centuries and Now Brought to Light.

Some excavations carried out in the catacomb, at the expense of Cardinal Kook, bishop of Breslau, and especially under the high altar and choir of the Church of St. Agnes Without the Walls, from which his eminence takes his title, have resulted in the discovery of the body of St. Agnes, one of the most interesting figures among the Christians of Rome. According to tradition she was a young girl who suffered martyrdom rather than suffer to the gods or accept a husband in one of the persecutions of the fourth century—probably that of Diocletian. About the year 1600 the casket containing her body was found on a marble slab in a subterranean vault under the church, and was relicquished by Pope Paul V. in a silver case. This case, with its contents, after being missing for nearly four centuries, has again been brought to light. British readers, familiar with the writings of the late Cardinal Wiseman will remember that Agnes is one of the leading personages in his story entitled "Patrials," which illustrates the life of the early Roman Christians.—London Tablet.

Many a woman is a martyr to her husband's dyspepsia.—Chicago Daily News.

Schley's Santiago

BY GEORGE EDWARD GRAHAM.

The Intrepid Associated Press war correspondent, who was aboard the U. S. Battleship "Maine" during the entire five months of the campaign. Illustrated with photographs taken by the author during the fight.

The Most Sensational Book of the Day.

The true story of the famous episode of the Flying Squadron under Commander William H. Schley, including the heroic and dramatic death of the Spanish fleet. TOLD FOR THE FIRST TIME.

Contains an authentic endorsement and personal account of the battle by Rear-Admiral Schley.

"The facts of the story of the movements and operations of the Flying Squadron as the author 'sets them in this book are correct.'—W. H. SCHLEY.

An interesting narrative of facts. Explains the "Maine" disaster, and settles conclusively every adverse ruling of the Court of Inquiry.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, when Governor of New York, said: "Mr. Graham's story is the best account I have heard or read of the naval fighting during the war. It needed just as much courage to go about it as the photographs as it did to work the gun."

THE NEW YORK HERALD says: "Mr. Graham, in the telling of facts, leaves the reader free to make his decision. There is no sensationalism, and no Court of Inquiry to be established."

No subject has ever been treated by the public that has interested everybody as much as the fall of the Spanish fleet. The Schley's Santiago book tells everything just as it occurred and at the eye-witness's own risk. It is still the only book of the kind. It contains many beautiful photographs and is a real gem. Price $1.50, $1.75, $2.25, $2.75, according to style of binding desired.

PICNIC FOR SOLONS.

Three Republican Millionaires Bidding for Nomination.

Parkersburg, W. Va., April 7.—Three West Virginia millionaires are striving for a seat in the United States Senate and the opening battle will be fought here this week. Senator Nathan Bay Scott, of Wheeling, a millionaire banker and miner; Henry Schmulbach, of Wheeling, the millionaire brewer, and James J. Caldwell, of Huntington, a millionaire bank and railroad president and owner of oil territory in the Beaumont field in Texas, are the aspirants.

"Caldwell is now downed at any cost," is the word brought from Senator Scott, and Caldwell says he will win, no matter what it costs him. Schmulbach is willing to put his money into the fight and it promises to be a lively campaign.

High Pressure Days.

Men and women alike have to work incessantly with brain and hand to hold their own nowadays. Never were the demands of business, the wants of the family, the requirements of society, more numerous. The first effect of the praiseworthy effort to keep up with all these things is commonly seen in a weakened or debilitated condition of the nervous system, which results in dyspepsia, defective nutrition of both body and brain, and in extreme cases in complete nervous prostration. It is clearly seen that what is needed is what will sustain the system, give vigor and tone to the nerves, to keep the digestive and assimilative functions healthy and active. From personal knowledge, we can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for this purpose. It acts on all the vital organs, builds up the whole system, and fits men and women for these high-pressure days.

UNFORTUNATE FAMILY.

Husband in Jail and Wife in the Asylum.

Mrs. L. D. Hampton, of Webster county, has been taken to the Western Kentucky Asylum for the Insane. Her case is a peculiarly sad one. A correspondent writes:

"One of the saddest phases of the misfortunes to which humanity is subjected in its journey through life was witnessed by the writer Tuesday at Dixon. A visit to the county court room presented a scene calculated to touch the most callous heart. There in the midst of jury, judge and attorney sat a woman, a mother with three small children at her knee, weeping incessantly while undergoing a legal examination to determine her sanity. Just across the court house yard, shivering in a cell in the county jail, with no power even to console the unfortunate wife, was confined the husband, confronted with the charge of grand larceny. The actors in this pathetic drama of human misfortune were Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hampton, of near Providence. Hampton is still in jail awaiting trial, while the wife and mother was adjudged of unsound mind and ordered to the insane asylum."

THE TIME IS PAST

For cheap buggies. Very frequently you see a buggy of a superior make, such as WOODHULL, SCHACHT, TROY or COLUMBUS, that has been used constantly for TEN YEARS, some of them FIFTEEN YEARS. They cost nearly twice as much, but they last four or five times as long, and the people are finding out they have been making a grave mistake in buying the "CHEAP JOHN" grades. We notice this in the brisk trade we are having in the HIGH GRADE WORK this season.

We carry some cheap buggies too for those who haven't the means to buy the best. Our assortment contains a number of wire wheel fancy jobs. We are making good our promise to carry the biggest line of Buggies and Carriages to be found in any one house in the State.
